ROSES

For a number of years, we have been offering mainly Hybrid Perpetual roses, on account of their greater hardiness. Because of their shorter blooming period, however, we have removed some of these from our list and are offering more Hybrid Teas. While the latter are not quite as hardy, we feel that as they bloom over such a longer period each summer they are worth running what little additional risk there is of winter injury. If our customers will take a little more care in protecting the bushes each fall by mounding the soil at least a foot high around each plant and putting on manure, straw, or evergreen boughs as extra protection, we feel sure they will get much more satisfaction. The bushes we offer below are strictly No. 1, 2 yr. plants which have been grown in the field, thus insuring vigor and maximum hardiness.

On the basis of ten points as a perfect score, the American Peony Society, rates all our varieties, except one, at over seven points, and most of them over eight points.

September is the best month for transplanting, but plants may also be moved with good results in the spring, if moved early.

GLADIOLAS

Any good garden soil will raise good "Glads" if you plant good bulbs. Set the bulbs stem-end up, from three to five inches apart and four to six inches deep, covering them gradually as the tops come up through the soil (as in planting asparagus roots). Deep planting prevents the flowers from falling over and makes staking unnecessary. At least fifty days are required from planting to blooming. For a succession of blooms, do not plant all bulbs at one time.

In cutting blooms use a sharp knife and leave at least two or three leaves on the plant.

When the leaves turn brown in the fall, lift the bulbs, dry them in the sun, and after removing the old shrivelled bulb, store in a cool dry place where they cannot freeze.

For a ready-mixed assortment, we especially recommend the following:

Exonian Mixture. A good assortment of beautiful varieties. 25c per doz.; 50 bulbs for 75c; $1.00 per 100.

Good-As-Grow Mixture. A very good selection of varieties. Smaller bulbs than Exonian Mixture, but guaranteed to bloom. 50 bulbs for 50c; 100 bulbs for 75c.

On all bulb orders amounting to $1.00 we pay the postage. (Excepting C. O. D. shipments.)
Otherwise add 5c for each 12 bulbs.

BEARDED IRISES

Commonly, though erroneously, called German Iris. These May-flowering, vigorous-growing plants thrive in well-drained, sunny spots. See them in bloom and you will know at once why they are increasing in popularity each year. In planting, barely cover the roots, and mulch the first Fall to prevent heaving.

Iris may be transplanted in the Spring, in the Summer or in the Fall—in short almost any time when the ground is not frozen.

Our stock of Iris is large, and a visit to our nurseries at blossoming time will well repay any who like to see them in bloom. We shall be pleased to have you call.
